THE GREAT CRIME AGAINST FREE GOVERNMENT.

See the article from the Washington D. C. Star in another column on the Kentucky election law. That law is so odious in Kentucky that many Democrats, including Senator Blackburn, are demanding its repeal or amendment. No honest man can defend an election law prepared for the sole purpose of committing fraud and stealing votes. It is a greater crime to steal a man's vote than it is to steal his money or his goods. To overthrow the will of the people is the greatest crime that dishonest politicians can commit against free government.

SUPPRESSING THE TRUTH.

There are many voters in North Carolina who to-day doubt believe that they have read a full and complete copy of Senator Money's speech in the Senate on the proposed Constitutional Amendment. But they have not. They have been fooled by one of their own party newspapers. The Raleigh News & Observer published what it claimed to be the full speech of Senator Money. But the News and Observer suppressed that part of the speech which it did not want its readers to see.

When Sen for Money, while delivering his speech, cited two authorities one a Supreme Court decision and the other a State decision, to prove that if section 5 was unconstitutional the whole amendment would fall, Senator Butler who sat near Senator Money when he was delivering this speech, asked permission of Senator Money to interrupt him. Having secured this permission, Senator Butler proceeded to call Senator Money's attention to the fact that the authorities he had cited did not apply to the case in point, and then proceeded further to call his attention to the fact that even if the two authorities did apply that there were dozens of authorities to the contrary which would make the overwhelming weight of authority against Senator Money's contention. Senator Butler had a dozen or more of these Supreme Court reports piled upon his desk and started to read from these decisions when Senator Money objected to his having citation from these decisions. Senator Butler then stated that if Senator Money objected to extracts from these decisions going into his speech he certainly should permit a citation of the names of the decisions to go in his speech so that those who read the speech might look up the cases for themselves. Senator Butler then started to read the names of the cases and again Senator Money objected to even the titles of the cases going into his speech. Senator Butler then proceeded to say that if Senator Money was afraid for these decisions to go into his speech that he would cite them all in a speech which he would make later, and that he invited Senator Money or any other Senator to reply to those decisions or to cite authority to the contrary.

Now let the reader remember that all of the above was published in the Congressional Record as a part of Senator Money's speech. But the News and Observer pretended to publish the speech, the editor of that paper cut all this matter out and did not even put a star or an explanation of any sort in his paper to show that such matter was left out.

It is a bad cause that must be supported by such unfair methods, indeed by suppressing the truth and fooling the voters.

The greatest constitutional lawyer in the United States is conceded to be Ex-Senator George F. Edmunds. Even the red-shirt organs in this State admit that he stands at the head of the list. What does he say about the amendment? He says that section 5 is clearly unconstitutional, and he says further that it is equally clear that the court will knock out section 5 leaving the remainder to stand. He said this in a carefully prepared legal opinion. He is sustained in this view by all of the leading constitutional lawyers in the United States Senate except a few who are so situated that they have partisan and official interests to bias their judgment.

THE CAUCASIAN begins in this issue the publication of Senator Butler's speech in the United States Senate on the election law and constitutional amendment. The first part of the speech is on the first page of this issue. It will be continued in next issue.

NOTICE.—If you are not a subscriber then this is a sample copy, and is an invitation to you to subscribe. For one dollar we will send four copies of the paper till the State election in August.

A DEMOCRAT STATES THE FACTS.

Congressman Underwood of Alabama has offered a resolution in Congress to repeal the 15th amendment to the Constitution of the United States. A few days ago he made a speech in support of his resolution. He began by stating that he was in favor of limiting negro suffrage, but that it was perfectly clear that this could not be done without at the same time limiting white suffrage to the same extent, that is, by the same qualifications, as long as the 15th amendment stood. He stated that the only honest, manly and safe course to pursue on the part of those who favored limiting negro suffrage was to repeal the 15th amendment. He stated that attempted discrimination or a straight out-and-out educational qualification would not work. Continuing, he said:

Some may say you can accomplish this fully by an educational qualification, but I say you can not accomplish the result in this way in the South. I have known many young negroes in the South who could read and write as a parrot can talk, who had no conception of the rights of others or the necessity of good government and probably never will have. On the other hand, I have known honest, law-abiding, property-holding white men, who have not had the benefit of an education and could not read and write, who understood the theory of government as well as you or I, whose votes are absolutely above any price, and who are far more capable of exercising the right of suffrage than many men who have had an education.

The above extracts from Congressman Underwood's speech states the position just as THE CAUCASIAN has frequently stated it. The negro child, parrot-like, can easily learn to read and write; and when he can read and write it does not show that he possesses like qualifications with the white child who can read and write. Besides, thousands of white boys and girls are forced to work in the fields to support themselves and their fathers and mothers and are denied an opportunity to go to school, while the negro child always goes to school. Besides, as Congressman Underwood points out, and such educational qualification the town negro would not only vote, but the number of such voters would increase each year more rapidly than the white voters, while many white voters would not be allowed to vote at all.

W. J. J. MARSHALL IS.

Recently one J. J. Marshall signing himself as Chairman of the People's Party township committee of Vienna township, Forsyth county, addressed an open letter to Senator Butler. This open letter was published with much ado and a great flourish of trumpets by the Raleigh News and Observer. Mr. Marshall in his letter claimed to be Chairman of the Populist Committee of his township and claimed to speak for the Populists of the township. He declared that he, as Chairman, and that the rank and file of the party endorsed Simon's ballot-box stuffing election law, and also favored the disfranchisement scheme.

In another column is a letter from Mr. J. W. Spears, one of the most prominent Populists and one of the most reliable and respected citizens of Forsyth county, in which he tells Mr. Marshall is. He declares that Marshall has no right to speak for the Populists, and besides, is not himself a Populist, that he is simply a tool in the hands of certain Democratic politicians of Winston. The Chairman of the People's Party Committee of Vienna township is Mr. J. A. Transom of Pfafftown.

The fraud that Mr. Marshall attempted to perpetrate by claiming to be a township chairman is in keeping with the ballot box stuffing methods of the Simon's machine. Now will a single Democratic paper in the State have the fairness and honesty to publish these facts and let their readers know who Marshall is? We will see.

MR. LUTHER'S SPEECH AT BREVARD.

In another column we publish a transcript from a report of the speech of the Hon. Dillon M. Luther at Brevard on the proposed constitutional amendment. Mr. Luther, as readers know, is a prominent Democrat of Buncombe county, and as President of the Z. B. Van Dine club in the last campaign. He was one of the most active and ardent supporters of Senator Vance and his red-shirt clubs in the last campaign than any other person in the West. He is now opposing the amendment as a Democrat on the ground:

1st. That the Democratic party pledged the people if they got in power that they would attempt to disfranchise anyone;

2nd. That the record of the Democratic party has been for manhood suffrage and that the proposed amendment is undemocratic, unnecessary, and dangerous;

3rd. He opposes it on the ground that Senator Vance while living all ways opposed such disfranchising schemes;

4th. He opposes it on the ground that it is unconstitutional and if any of it stands the result will be to disfranchise fifty or sixty thousand white voters in the State.

He appeals to the Democrats to save their party from such a blunder and from such perjury by voting down the amendment.

GORMAN ON BRYAN.

Just after the adjournment of the meeting of the National Committee in Washington, in which Gorman succeeded in defeating Bryan's wishes and fixing the date of the Convention for July 4th, he gave out the following interview:

I am just as much opposed to the nomination of Mr. Bryan to-day as I was in 1896. He is the same man, standing on the same platform and the same reasons against his nomination apply with even more force to-day than then. I do not think his nomination would be wise and I have not said that nothing can prevent it. On the contrary, while I realize that he has the support of the people to a remarkable degree, I believe his nomination could be prevented if those who believe it would get together and unite their efforts. Every now and then I hear an influential man in the Democratic party say that he does not think we ought to nominate Mr. Bryan but that he does not see how it can be prevented. The united action of people who feel that way can prevent it. Mr. Bryan has a great many unwilling supporters.

The above shows the whole scheme that Mr. Gorman had in mind when he managed to fix the date of the convention for July 4th. Notice that he says that he believes the nomination of Bryan could be prevented if those who believe it would get together and unite their efforts. Hence the great advantage to him and his allies in getting a late date for the convention. It gives them more time to lay their plans and organize. Now in this connection it is noticeable that Mr. Josephus Daniels, member of the committee from North Carolina, voted with Mr. Gorman for July 4th.

A LETTER

DEAR SIR: On the occasion of Bryan's recent visit to the State, I noticed several publications in the Democratic papers to the effect that R. B. Waddell of Wilmington and other Democratic politicians, when they heard it was reported that Senator Butler would probably come to North Carolina with Mr. Bryan, that they telegraphed Mr. Bryan saying it would not do for Senator Butler to come with him, that it would cost the party ten thousand votes, etc. I have looked into the CAUCASIAN each week since then to see what statement about the matter and to learn the facts and the truth; but so far I have not seen a line in your paper about it. So I write to know if there is any truth in the report at all.

Yours very truly,

Yes, we suppose the truth in the report. At least the CAUCASIAN noticed the publications in the Democratic papers referred to in the above letter. Whether Mr. Bryan ever received such telegrams, and if he did, what his opinion was of the fool friends (I) who wrote them we do not know. But the CAUCASIAN has been very anxious concerning the matter for the reason that it did not want to hurt Mr. Bryan or make him seem in any way responsible for such fool and assassinial conduct as Waddell and others are reported to have been guilty of. The CAUCASIAN wants to see Mr. Bryan President, so it can afford to overlook the conduct of such characters as Waddell and Simmons, who at heart would rather see Cleveland President than Bryan. The fact that Simmons and his machine not only ignored but attempted to insult Populist on the occasion of Mr. Bryan's visit should not afford a single Populist voter in the State as far as Mr. Bryan is concerned. Simmons simply invited Mr. Bryan to the State to try to use him to bolster his senatorial candidacy and not because he cared anything for Mr. Bryan or his principles. North Carolina would have gone against Mr. Bryan in 1896 had it not been for the Populist vote; and it was the vigilance of the Populist that prevented certain Democratic traitors from betraying him in the last days of the campaign.

TEXAS POPULIST PLEASED.

In another column will be found an address issued to the Texas middle-of-the-road populists by the Texas members of the National Committee of the People's party, after the adjournment of the national committee meeting at Lincoln. This delegation, headed by Col. Harry Tracy say in their address to the Texas Populists that the National Committee has observed and lived up to the Omaha agreement in every particular in good faith. The call upon every honest middle-of-the-roader in Texas and in the nation to also stand by the Omaha agreement and to elect delegates to the National Convention at Sioux Falls and to abide by its result. They point out further in their address that the only persons who are or can be dissatisfied with the action of the committee are those who have already bolted the party, held a ramp convention and nominated Barker and Donnelly.

Certain Democratic papers are continually asserting that Senator Butler has made a deal with the Republicans for some Federal office. The papers that make this charge know themselves that it is false, but they hope to dupe some of their readers. Senator Butler is a candidate for re-election to the Senate. The people of the State endorse his record in the Senate, and unless all signs fail they will re-elect him.

Now is the time to subscribe for THE CAUCASIAN. Get your neighbors to subscribe—send in a club of ten subscribers for the State campaign with $2.50

25 CENTS TILL AUGUST ELECTION.

We have been urged by many of our subscribers to make a campaign rate for the CAUCASIAN till the State election next August. They say that they could get many persons to subscribe in clubs who do not take the paper with a low special campaign rate.

In response to these requests, we make a 25 cent rate for the State campaign, provided that they are sent in clubs of not less than four. That is for $1.00 we will send four copies to any address till the August election.

With this very low campaign rate the friends and supporters of honest elections, of liberty and manhood suffrage should send us at least ten thousand new subscribers within the next thirty days.

The past week has been a very interesting one in Congress. For a whole week a strong and exciting debate has been conducted in the House over the Porto Rican tariff bill. Some Republicans refused to vote for the bill, but enough Democrats were found to go to the assistance of the Republicans to pass it by a bare majority. The measure is now before the Senate where a repetition of the fight in the House will ensue. It seems to be as illogical to put a tariff tax on Porto Rico, now a part of the United States, as it would be to put a tariff tax on Oklahoma or New Mexico.

The past week the British on account of superior numbers, gained some advantage over the Boers in the South African war. The gallant and heroic fight which the Boers have been making to preserve their liberty and their Republic has won the admiration of every patriot in every corner of the globe. It is to be hoped that the United States or some strong nation will yet interfere before England with her superior power crushes that brave and patriotic Republic.

In another column see a letter from Mr. W. C. Pearson of Chatham county, to Mr. Lineberry. Mr. Pearson was fooled by the promises of Mr. Simmons and the Democratic speakers in the last campaign that they would not disfranchise anybody and would not pass any local-bul election law. He now declares that he will return to the Populist party and fight these two iniquitous and perfidious measures.

During the last week the Senate passed the bill for a government for the territory of Hawaii. This bill is similar to the bill that Congress has always heretofore passed providing government for territories within the borders of the United States. There seems to be no good reason why Porto Rico should not be treated in the same way.

AGAINST THE AMENDMENT.

An Open Letter by W. C. Pearson to R. B. Chatham Citizen.

RIGGSBURG, Feb. 27, 1900.
Dear Sir:—In answer to yours of 24th enquiring as to whether or not I endorse the election law and suffrage amendment proposed by the last legislature, will say I do not endorse either. I look at it as an overdone of Simmons' Regulator, calculated in its purposes to work out of politics every of the common people to forever hereafter enable them, Simmonsites, to hold the reins of government in their own hands, and it must be considered dangerous by any fair-minded man to so enthrone any one party that it cannot be gotten out when it fails to administer the affairs of government for the greatest good to the greatest number. Nothing short of this is true Democracy, and I would have contempt for myself since all of my former declarations have been in favor of a free ballot and a fair count, to go back on it all and favor a scheme that would disfranchise 10,000 freemen in North Carolina and thereby place in power a set of Simmonsites whose policies are so far from true democracy.

As to leaving the Populist convention in '98, I did so because I thought the policy of that convention was detrimental to Populist principles, thus my action. But in the coming election, it behooves every liberty loving citizen to rise above partisan prejudice and in solid phalanx push for American liberty and American freedom.

I will give you my views and reasons for not endorsing these infamous measures when I have more time.

Yours for the right,
W. C. PEARSON.

The Amendment Would Disfranchise 750 White Voters in Chatham.

Chatham Citizen.

Did you not hear the county Democrats in 1898 say that the talk of Democrats disfranchising any one is a "fusion lie"? If they could so soon come courting them, how wise was their assurance have you they will not? A time double poll tax—make poll tax to $600 worth property! After they get part of the opposition out of the way they can more easily do to suit themselves.

If the amendment was now in operation, 750 white voters of Chatham county would be disfranchised. Are you going to vote such amendment, to say nothing of those who will be disfranchised by the educational qualification?

DILLON M. LUTHER'S SPEECH AT BREVARD.

DEMOCRATS CONGRATULATE HIM ON HIS MANLY STAND.

Spoke as a Democrat in Opposition to the Amendment.

He Attacks the Latest Effort of the Promoters of the Measure to Mislead White Men to the Opposite of What Comes From His Unconstitutionality.

Cor. Asheville Gazette.

BREVARD, March 1.—Wednesday was a red letter day for those in this county opposed to the constitutional amendment. Shortly after noon took a recess for dinner, Mr. D. M. Luther was introduced to a good-sized crowd and held their closest attention for over an hour. Considering the severity of the winter the crowd was good, consisting of about one hundred, from both parties. He spoke from the standpoint of a Democrat opposed to the vicious and illegal amendment proposed.

Mr. Luther dwelt at length upon the fifth section of the amendment, citing numerous authorities both from decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States and the Supreme Court of North Carolina, showing that it was clearly unconstitutional. He made a good impression when he declared that the advocates of the amendment had acknowledged its unconstitutionality by declaring that the legislature in June would pass another clause in the constitution to give the court power to interpret the amendment. His argument along the line of the impossibility of the legislative, judicial or executive branches of the government encroaching upon the province and powers of one another was strong and convincing. His citations of authority were numerous, and of the best source, his logical clever and convincing and his eloquence at times rose to the height of inspiration.

Mr. Luther declared that the Supreme Court declared its discrimination between the races, to apply the taxes paid by each race to the education of the children of the respective races, which will a Republican Supreme Court, acting upon such precedent, do with a law more drastic in its discrimination.

Mr. Luther's arraignment of the 4th section was a masterful one. Sophistry and deception before the searchlight of his logic like chaff before the wind. All eyes were upon him. He pleaded the cause of liberty and justice. And pausing in the midst of an earnest argument, and with the picture of earnest solitude upon his face, declared: "Because I dare declare the rights of you, my fellow citizens; because I am a humble and illiterate citizen in the right of his franchise; because I submit not to the robbery of the poor school children of this State; because I am a traitor, if that be treachery, when I brand me with it." The effect was like an electric shock. His appeal touched the emotions of the listeners as well as their faculties of reason. It was a moment of triumph for the orator and for the cause he so earnestly espoused.

Democracy, when it is finished, men, regardless of party, crowded about to thank him for his bold and honorable stand. I use the words of a prominent Democrat who heard and addressed him: "Luther, I honor you more now than I ever did. I have been your enemy and your opponent, but now you are a bold man to take the course you have. I believe you are a Democrat, and speak from honest and sincere convictions."

This is but a sample of what I heard from the Democrats. His speech has been read and the town and continues to be discussed.

A number of Democrats announced their intention after the speaking to oppose the amendment. Many good men who had contended or complained to make or mistakes to rectify would appear before that committee at once so that all questions could be investigated and fairly adjudicated. As soon as the preliminary roll had been read and the committee adjourned, a crowd mostly unknown to the committee as Populists, previously organized for this specific purpose, and led by Joe A. Parker of Kentucky, who had prepared a list of distributed proxies individually to persons who had to sign a written agreement to act with the bolters in all things before the proxy was given to them, proceeded to effect their contemplated plan by electing D. Clem Deaver chairman and Al. Reed secretary, and eventually adjourned their meeting to the Grand Hotel where they perfected their bolt by calling a national ramp convention to convene at Cincinnati, Ohio, May 9, 1900.

Chairman Butler, the secretary and contest committee, met as directed, sent for many of the bolters and after hearing all the evidence perfected the roll of committee members by seating the members of the committee elected at St. Louis in 1896, except in the States where regular State conventions have elected other members of the committee, the new members thus elected being seated. The committee was then organized and the members and proxies who participated in the Cincinnati Convention of 1898 which nominated Barker for president and Donnelly for vice president, and those who are now on the national committee of that party are openly supporting that ticket. Among those seated are Joe A. Parker (who appeared before the contest committee and stated emphatically that he had bolted the Cincinnati convention and was not supporting that ticket), D. Clem Deaver and all of the bolters whose credentials were regular. Parker, Deaver, and others of the bolters who had been seated afterwards met with the regular committee, participated in its deliberations for a time, and then deliberately bolted again.

The present roll of members of the National Committee includes representation from every State and Territory in the Union and the District of Columbia, and the attendance was the largest that has assembled at any committee meeting since 1896. The sessions of the committee were characterized by the utmost harmony and brotherly feeling throughout. Every agreement made at Omaha in 1898 was strictly adhered to. Even the date for holding the national nominating convention was left entirely to the Texas delegation, who selected May 9, 1900; their choice being ratified by acclamation. The committee selected Sioux Falls, S. D., for the convention seat after a spirited contest, the first ballot having been Sioux Falls, 38; Kansas City, 22;

WHO J. J. MARSHALL IS.

He is not a Populist, But He is a Tool in the Hands of Certain Democratic Lawyers of Winston.

VIENNA, Feb. 19, 1900.
Hon. Marion Butler, Washington, D. C.

Dear Senator:—Replying to yours of the 14th inst., would say that J. J. Marshall is not now and has not been our township chairman for three years because of the fact that he allowed himself to become a tool in the hands of certain Democratic lawyers of Winston. Besides, every one who knows Mr. Marshall is well aware of the fact that he did not write that letter.

Mr. J. A. Transom has been for some time, and now our regularly elected township chairman; therefore he is the man that you and our State Committee should communicate with, for he is the official head of the organization, and he may write you will be reliable, and besides, he represents the sentiments of the Populists of the township. Mr. Transom's post office is Pfafftown.

Senator, at any time I can be of service to you I stand ready, because I feel it my duty to try to hold up your hands in the great and gallant fight you have made and are making to-day for our State.

Yours Respectfully,
J. W. SPEARS.

Fire and Catarrh

If there is a fire in your cellar you put it out with water. If the flames are in the kitchen you use water again. If the fire is located in the second story, water is the agent to subdue it. If in the attic, water is still your salvation. Fire is fire, and no matter where located, water puts it out.

Your body is a house of many stories. It is lined throughout with a marvellously sensitive mucous membrane. Whenever this membrane becomes irritated or inflamed, the result is Catarrh. When you catch cold, you have Catarrh of the head, eyes, or ear or nose. Bronchitis is Catarrh of the bronchial tubes. Pneumonia is Catarrh of the air cells of the lungs. Consumption is Catarrh of the lungs. Heartburn and Dyspepsia are Catarrh of the stomach. Kidney troubles are Catarrh of the kidneys. Biliousness is Catarrh of the liver. Leucorrhoea is Catarrh of the pelvic organs in women. Almost everyone has Catarrh in some form.

Pe-ru-na is the name of a medicine that cures Catarrh in any part of the body, the same water extinguishes fire in every part of a house. It is a long tried specific for Catarrh in every complication and phase. It restores the delicate pink membrane that lines the inside of the body to a perfectly normal condition, and thus makes the sick well. It is a universal remedy for that universal disease—Catarrh. It is the only true Catarrh cure known to medical science.

A Statement to Texas Populists

The Texas Members of the National Committee of the People's Party Join in Address to the Middle-of-the-Roaders, which applies as well to the Populists of the Entire Country.

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 20, 1900.
In consequence of certain signed publications emanating from this city during and since the meeting of the People's Party National Executive Committee, the Texas delegation makes the following statement:

When the national committee was called to order by Chairman Butler he stated that he and the secretary as was their duty had prepared a preliminary list of the members of the committee and their proxies, but as some members of the committee had moved into other States, some had died, and several contests had been filed from some of the States, he deemed it his duty to appoint a committee of three on credentials and contests to assist him and the secretary in revising the list and hearing and passing on said contests; that the committee could legally transact no business until after the revision of the list had been prepared and adopted, and that after the secretary had read the preliminary list the committee would stand adjourned until 8:30 p. m., and that the secretary, together with the committee on credentials and contests, would retire immediately to the rooms of the Department of Insurance in the capitol building where the committee meetings were being held, and that all those who had contests or complaints to make or mistakes to rectify would appear before that committee at once so that all questions could be investigated and fairly adjudicated. As soon as the preliminary roll had been read and the committee adjourned, a crowd mostly unknown to the committee as Populists, previously organized for this specific purpose, and led by Joe A.
